

Answer sheet 7: Centrelink

11 September 2015

| Requirements: Show the video on this topic from the Legal Aid WA website under Resources>What's the law. Pre-teaching Vocabulary: change, correct, earned, exactly, extra, married, mistake, owe, probably, responsibility, Tax Office, tired. Warmer activity to introduce topic: Class survey: Who has filled in a Centrelink form? Was it easy (or complicated) to fill in? Did you have help? Key messages 1. If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances chan case it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you leave Australia. 2. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, ther should ask. 3. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p if you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay them back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centre If you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision revie | | |
|--|-----|--|
| Vocabulary: change, correct, earned, exactly, extra, married, mistake, owe, probably, responsibility, Tax Office, tired. Warmer activity to introduce topic: Class survey: Who has filled in a Centrelink form? Was it easy (or complicated) to fill in? Did you have help? Key messages 1. If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances change ase it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you deark Australia. 2. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, ther should ask. 3. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p If you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel If you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an | Red | eo on this topic from the Legal Aid WA website under Resources>What's the law. |
| Warmer activity to introduce topic: Class survey: Who has filled in a Centrellink form? Was it easy (or complicated) to fill in? Did you have help? Key messages 1. If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances chang case it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you leave Australia. 2. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, there should ask. 3. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p if you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel If you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of act that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an approach of the government of the properties of | Pr | |
| Key messages 1. If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances change case it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you leave Australia. 2. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, then should ask. 3. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p if you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel If you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an apolity of the post married and the post married and post marri | Voc | earned, exactly, extra, married, mistake, owe, probably, responsibility, Tax Office, tired. |
| If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances changease it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you leave Australia. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, ther should ask. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p if you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel flyou don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an approach of the properties of t | | opic: Class survey: Who has filled in a Centrelink form? Was it easy (or complicated) |
| If you get a Centrelink payment or service, you need to tell Centrelink immediately if your circumstances changease it affects your payment. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in your partner, if your rent changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to time, if you leave Australia. If you don't understand what is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, ther should ask. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p if you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel flyou don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an approach of the properties of t | Ke | |
| should ask. 3. Centrelink checks information with the Australian Tax Office, Australia's immigration authorities, govern departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p If you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrelify you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an ap Answers Activity A 1. he got married 2. four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 5. tax office Activity B 1. c 2. e 3. a 4. b 5. d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | | nent. Change in circumstances includes changes to your income or assets, moving in with changes, if your child stops living with you, if you stop studying or go from full-time to part- |
| departments and other organisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the p If you are overpaid, you will probably have to repay the money. 4. If you have deliberately given Centrelink incorrect information, then you may be charged with a criminal offence have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrelify you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an ap Answers Activity A 1. he got married 2. four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 5. tax office Activity B 1. c 2. e 3. a 4. b 5. d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | 2. | hat is happening with a payment or why you are being asked to give information, then you |
| have to go to court. Centrelink fraud is a serious offence. You could be sent to prison and have to pay the m back. 5. It is important to use interpreters to make sure you understand your rights and obligations when dealing with Centrel fryou don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an apparature. Answers Activity A 1. he got married 2. four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 5. tax office Activity B 1. c 2. e 3. a 4. b 5. d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | 3. | rganisations, and checks your income with employers. It also acts on tip-offs from the public. |
| If you don't understand anything you get from Centrelink, you should call them or visit an office. You can ask for a interpreter. 6. If you have a problem with Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an appear of the problem of | 4. | |
| go. 7. If you have a problem with Centrelink or you are not happy with a decision, tell them and get a receipt or record of fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an apparatus of the policy of the | | |
| fact that you talked to them. 8. If you disagree with a decision that Centrelink makes, you have the right to have the decision reviewed (look again). Welfare Rights and Advocacy Service of WA may be able to help with asking for a review or lodging an apparatus of the position of the | 6. | h Centrelink and they ask you to go to an interview, you can get free legal advice before you |
| Answers Activity A 1. he got married 2. four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 5. tax office Activity B 1. c 2. e 3. a 4. b 5. d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | 7. | |
| Activity A 1. he got married | 8. | |
| 1. he got married 2. four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 5. tax office Activity B 1. c 2. e 3. a 4. b 5. d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | An | |
| 5. tax office Activity B 1. c | Ac | |
| 1.c 2.e 3.a 4.b 5.d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | | four hours 3. nine hours 4. $2,000 |
| 1.c 2.e 3.a 4.b 5.d Activity C d f c a h b g e Activity D | Ac | |
| d f c a h b g e Activity D | | 4. b 5. d |
| Activity D | Ac | |
| | d | a h b g e |
| 5. review | 1. | form 3. information 4. declare |

Activity E

Discussion

Activity F

Check the last slide on the video for the best place to get free legal help.

11 September 2015

Script for Centrelink story

Win-Aung Centrelink? Hi this is Win-Aung Kunoo. I just got married and I'm now living with my wife.

Centrelink worker Thanks for telling us. Your Newstart payments may change. Please write down this receipt number and keep it in a safe place.

Win-Aung Hey, we're still getting the same money.

Sanda Must be OK because you called them.

Boss Hey mate, can you work extra hours tomorrow?

Win-Aung Sure. I have to put in my Centrelink form first – can you tell me how many hours I will work? I have to tell them how much money I get each fortnight.

Boss Not sure – probably around four hours.

Win-Aung OK, see you tomorrow. Sanda That was a long day!

Win-Aung Yeah, they needed me for nine hours – not four! I'm tired.
Win-Aung I really like this job, and we get cheap fruit and veggies.

Win-Aung They say I owe them $2000.

Sanda That's not right.

Win-Aung I don't understand this letter.

Centrelink worker You owe Centrelink money. Centrelink checked with the tax office and you earned more money than you declared on your forms. Also, you didn't tell us you were married so you have been overpaid on Newstart.

Win-Aung But I did tell Centrelink I was married. It's your mistake.

Win-Aung ... and each week my hours change, so I never know how much I'll be paid.

Centrelink worker It's your responsibility to give us the correct information Mr Kunoo.

Sanda Maybe you should call legal aid? I know they help with legal problems.

Win-Aung Can you help me with a Centrelink problem?

Legal Aid worker I'll give you the number of a free legal service that helps with Centrelink problems.

Win-Aung Thanks.

Lawyer You have been overpaid because you did not tell Centrelink about all your income from work.

Win-Aung But I never know how much I will be paid!

Lawyer We can ask Centrelink to change your pay date so that you put your forms in after you get paid.

Win-Aung And they said I didn't tell them I was married. I did tell them.

Lawyer Do you have a receipt number for the phone call?

Win-Aung Yes, here it is. Lucky I kept it.

Lawyer What did you tell them? Did you know you were being overpaid?

Win-Aung I told them I got married and moved in with my wife. I thought they must be paying me the right amount.

Lawyer I will talk to Centrelink about whether they can cancel part of the debt.

Win-Aung Thanks for your help.

Lawyer No worries. It's my job to help people with Centrelink problems.

Lawyer l've got good news. Centrelink has agreed to reduce the debt to $600. Can you afford to pay $20 a week?

Win-Aung That's fantastic! Thank you.