

Are you or someone you care about on bail or applying for bail?

The Legal Aid Bail Support Service helps people applying for bail to make a plan to manage their personal, social and health issues. They also help people on bail by providing ongoing support. The kind of help that the Bail Support Service provides includes:

- help finding accommodation
- help accessing health or mental health services
- reminders to report to the police station, go to appointments and to go to Court
- assistance accessing government services from places like NDIS and Centrelink
- support, advocacy and encouragement

To find out more go to www.legalaid.wa.gov.au/about-us/bss

Please speak to your lawyer if you think the Bail Support Service could assist or call 9261 6818.