

FIRST NATIONS LAW STUDENT INTERNSHIP

The aim of the First Nations Law Student Program is to provide First Nations law students with the opportunity to work alongside experienced lawyers to develop their legal skills and gain insight into the legal system.

This internship program runs a day per week over a 12-week period and is for students in their second or above year of study for their law degree.

Enquiries for this program are welcome at any time during the year.

If you are interested in undertaking the internship, then please email the following information to firstnationsinternships@legalaid.wa.gov.au:

1. Your year of study;

2. The name of your university;

3. The areas of the law you are interested in; and

4. Which day/s of the week you would be available to undertake the internship.

If you have any queries regarding the internship program you can contact Michelle Sims, First Nations Services Coordinator on 9261 6344 or email michelle.sims@legalaid.wa.gov.au
